EVENT SCHEDULING INFORMATION

ASEA events will follow an approximate schedule with class times provided in the show catalogue. Please note:

- Classes may start after their printed times if delays occur.
- Classes will not start prior to their scheduled time unless all entered competitors are present and agree to proceed.

Competitors are encouraged to review the schedule carefully and ensure they are prepared to enter the ring promptly when their class is called. Your cooperation helps us maintain a smooth and enjoyable event for everyone.

CLASS SCHEDULING AND CLASHES

ASEA understands that running two shows simultaneously can present challenges for competitors. Wherever possible, we will endeavour to hold classes to minimize clashes. However, it is the responsibility of competitors to carefully review the class schedule and timing.

If you anticipate any potential class clashes, please inform the ASEA gate steward at the earliest opportunity. While we will do our best to accommodate, we cannot guarantee adjustments in all circumstances. Your cooperation and communication are greatly appreciated to ensure a smooth running of the event.

MEASURING INFORMATION

Measuring for ASEA will take place at the same time as IMHR to ensure a streamlined and efficient process for competitors.

Please note the following:

- Measurement Points: ASEA and IMHR have different requirements for where measurements are taken on the horse. For ASEA, measurements are taken at the lowest point of the last mane hair. IMHR measurements may differ, so please refer to their guidelines.
- Height for Age Requirements: ASEA also has Height for Age rules in place. Competitors must ensure their horses meet the appropriate height limits for their age. Please note that all ages for Height for Age calculations are taken as of the 1st of August, not the horse's actual birthdate. Please refer to the Height for Age table provided in this program or contact the measuring steward for clarification.

If you have any questions about the measuring process or height requirements, please don't hesitate to ask the steward. Your cooperation is appreciated!

WHAT IS A SMALL EQUINE

A small equine is defined as any horse or pony under the height of 12.2hh. This category includes: Miniature horses, Small horses, Little horses, Arabian ponies, Australian ponies, Shetlands, Miniature Ponies Small ponies, etc. Here's a more detailed explanation:

Different height categories of Small Equines:

There are many different categories that ASEA recognize for registration and also hold events for. These different categories are based on height and type. Some have height for age to ensure that consistency is held throughout their show life.

CATEGORY 1: HORSE - INCLUDES MINIATURE HORSE, SMALL HORSE, LITTLE HORSE

About:

Miniature/Small/Little Horses should be compact and well-proportioned, displaying the essential conformational attributes expected across various breeds of larger horses. Without a size reference, the Horse should create the impression of a full-sized horse. The mare should exhibit refinement and femininity, while the stallion should exude boldness and masculinity, all the while maintaining an impeccable temperament. The overall impression ought to convey symmetry, strength, agility, and alertness. The breed's goal of achieving the smallest ideal horse, judging preference shall be accorded to the smaller horse, assuming other characteristics are reasonably equal.

Height:

Miniature Horse - Horses 34 and under"

(all measurements are taken from last hair of mane)

- WEANLINGS: Not over 30"
- YEARLINGS: Not over 32"
- TWO YEAR OLDS: Not Over 33"
- MATURE HORSES: Not over 34"

Small Horse - Horses over 34" and up to 38"

(all measurements are taken from last hair of mane)

- WEANLINGS - not over 34"
- YEARLINGS: not over 36"
- TWO YEAR OLDS: not over 37"
- MATURE HORSES: not over 38"

(all measurements are taken from last hair of mane)

- WEANLINGS: not over 38"
- YEARLINGS: not over 40"
- TWO YEAR OLDS: not over 41"
- MATURE HORSES: not over 42"

Show Presentation:

The presentation of the horse is at the discretion of the owner, and may be presented in the following ways:

- In a natural condition.
- Clipped with the new coat established; or
- Freshly clipped, ensuring the horse appears neat, healthy, and well-presented in all scenarios

Here are some tips on presenting your small equine for Shows.

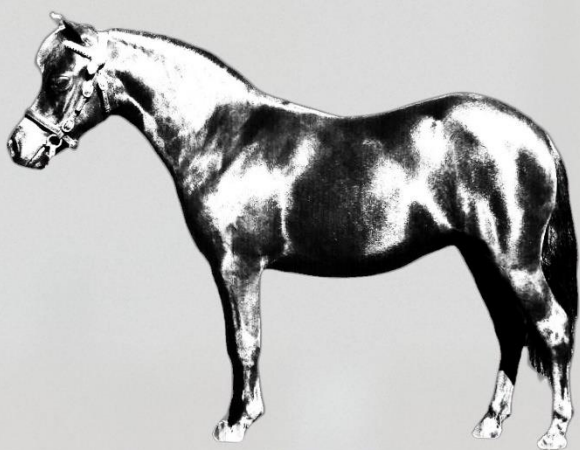

Contrary to popular belief there is no reason to clip your small equine for every show.

Many breeders and Small Equine competitors have had great results getting beautiful coats on their horses with a number of different methods, lights, strategic rugging, strict grooming routines etc.. Always remember that your horses health starts from the inside, so a good balanced diet will work wonders on their coat.

If your horses has a coat it could be wise to check for any hairy points before competing at a show. These could be - under the belly, ears, beard, feathers etc. These are all common places for fuzz to develop. Depending on how hairy your horse is, it may be better to clip them all together. Removal of facial tactile hairs is optional, however showing horses with a nice clean face free of fuzz and fluff is desirable and can improve the look of your Small Equine. You should bear in mind it is possible to do this without taking off the tactile hairs and a trained professional will be able to guide you here. Ear hair may be trimmed, but eyelashes should remain untouched. MANES & TAILS may be shown either plaited or unplaited and only horses that compete in harness may be shod in halter events.

Colour enhancement products may be used However, it is discouraged, and these products can only be used to enhance the horse's natural body colour and no markings should ever be altered.

CATEGORY 2: PONY -
INCLUDES MINIATURE
PONY, SMALL PONY,
LITTLE PONY

About:

"The Pony" should be well-proportioned and known for its excellent temperament. Mares exhibit refinement and femininity, while stallions exude boldness and masculinity. The pony should possess robustness suitable for pulling an adult in a small vehicle and embody the recognized characteristics of a typical pony in miniature. When all factors are equal, judging preference may be given to the smaller size.

Height:

MINIATURE PONY:

- ALL AGES: must not exceed 87CM (34.2")

SMALL PONY:

- ALL AGES: over 87cm- 96.52cm (34"-38")

LITTLE PONY:

- ALL AGES: over 96.52cm- 106.68cm (38" - 42" )

Height shall be taken from the highest point of the wither. There is no height for age in Pony Section)

Show Presentation:

The presentation is at the Owner/Exhibitor's discretion, however presenting the pony to be displayed at its best is a benefit to you and the breed. The forelock, mane, and tail are to be presented naturally. False adornments on the mane, tail, and forelock are allowed to be used in ASEA Shows. When trimming the bridle path bear in mind it must not exceed 1".

The preferred presentation for a miniature pony is in a summer coat. However, ponies that are either clipped or in heavy coat won't be excluded from showing. Foals should be shown unclipped.

All Colts & Stallions aged 2 years and older must be correctly bitted and handled by an Adult. Colour Enhancement products are allowed however they are discouraged and can only be applied to enhance the natural body colour, they should not alter or change the pony's natural body colour (e.g., bay to black), or markings (spots, blazes, stars, etc.)

CATEGORY 3: SHOW PONY -

Includes all Horses and Ponies over 42" (10.2hh) and up to 52 (12.2hh)"

About:

The Show Pony should be a sound, well-balanced horse with the correct conformation characteristics required of most breeds. The Show Pony should exhibit refinement and femininity in mares and boldness and masculinity in stallions, all while displaying an impeccable temperament. The overall impression should convey symmetry, strength, agility, and alertness.

JUDGING PROCESS FOR ASEA NATIONAL OPEN HALTER CLASSES

All classes in the ASEA National Open Halter will be judged using the official ASEA Scorecard, which provides a standardized framework for evaluating the physical attributes and movement quality of small equines.

These classes will be assessed by three judges, each independently scoring the equines based on the official criteria outlined in the scorecard. The final results will be determined by compiling and averaging the scores from all three judges to ensure accuracy and fairness in judging.

IN THE EVENT OF A TIE

The score for Balance will be the deciding factor to break the tie and determine the final placings.

SCORING SYSTEM - HORSE

The **Small Equine Score Card** is a structured evaluation tool designed to assess various physical attributes and movement qualities of small equines. Each attribute is scored on a 10–20 scale, categorized as follows:

- Poor (10-13): Indicates major deficiencies in structure or function.
- Average (14-15.5): Reflects basic adequacy but lacks refinement or exceptional quality.
- Good (16-17.5): Represents above-average conformation or movement.
- Excellent (18-19.5): Shows high quality, aligning closely with breed or performance ideals.
- Ideal (20): Exemplifies perfection with no visible flaws.

Judges assign scores within these ranges for each category, which are then totalled to give an overall evaluation of the equine.

Here's an explanation of the sections and scoring process:

Sections and Attributes

1. BALANCE

- Evaluates the alignment of the horse's head, neck, back, and limbs, ensuring proper weight distribution for movement efficiency and grace.
- Ideal balance features the hindquarters carrying slightly more weight to enable propulsion and smooth motion.

2. HEAD

- Assesses proportionality to the horse's body, including features like a broad forehead, prominent eyes, and a clean profile below the eyes.
- Well-defined nostrils and a slightly concave or straight profile contribute to a refined appearance.

3. NECK & SHOULDER

- Focuses on flexibility and proper alignment of the throatlatch and neck, blending smoothly into the withers.
- Examines the angle and length of the shoulders for optimal stride and head/neck carriage.

4. BODY

- Evaluates musculature, bone structure, and proportions.
- A well-muscled body with a smooth top-line, short loins, and a proper girth is desired.

5. FEET & LEGS

- Looks at the straightness, length, and positioning of legs from different views.
- Includes evaluation of pastern angles, hoof shape, and overall alignment to ensure durability and soundness.

6. MOVEMENT

- Observes walk and trot quality, emphasizing fluidity, stride length, and engagement of hindquarters.
- Ideal movement includes correct limb motion and a balance of power and lightness.

This card ensures a fair and detailed assessment by focusing on key physical and functional traits essential for performance and breed standards. It also standardizes judging criteria to maintain consistency.

OFFICIAL SHOW DAY COMMITTEE

National Committee: Danielle Cotton, Heidi Kemp, Lachlan Kerr, Tiffany Granger, Hayley Bielefeld, Michelle Avery

BALANCE Balance requires alignment of the head, neck, back, and limbs. This alignment allows the horse to carry its weight effectively and move with grace and power.
 Weight Distribution. In a balanced horse, weight is evenly distributed between the front and hindquarters. The hindquarters should carry more weight, enabling impulsion and effective movement.

HEAD Proportionate to the length of the neck and body, featuring a broad forehead with large, prominent eyes set wide apart. The distance between eyes and muzzle is relatively short, with a straight or slightly concave profile below the eyes. Large, well-defined nostrils contribute to a clean and refined appearance

NECK & SHOULDER Throatlatch: Clean and well-defined, allowing ample flexion at the poll.
 Neck: Flexible, lengthy, and proportionate to the body, blending smoothly into the withers.
 Shoulder: Long, sloping, and well-angulated, facilitating a free-swinging stride and an alert head/neck carriage. A well-muscled forearm complements the overall structure.

JUNIOR & SENIOR JUDGING

Judge: Shelia Jones

RULES FOR JUNIOR HORSE JUDGING CLASSES

Welcome and Overview

- Today, you will judge four horses based on how they look, how they move, and how they behave.
- Your job is to observe carefully and rank the horses from 1st place to 4th place. How the Class Works

Lineup:

- You will see four horses standing in a line.
- Assess each horse one by one.

Movement:

- Each horse will be walked and trotted in front of you.
- Watch how the horse moves at both the walk and the trot.

Judging:

- You will judge the horses in three categories:
- Looks (Conformation): Does the horse look well-built and strong?
- Movement: Does the horse walk and trot smoothly?
- Behaviour: Is the horse calm and well-behaved?
- Score each horse on your scorecard for each category.

Ranking:

- After scoring, decide which horse you think is the best overall (1st place), second-best (2nd place), and so on down to 4th place.
- Write your rankings on your scorecard.

Rules to Remember

- Be Quiet and Respectful: While judging, stay quiet and don't distract the horses or handlers.
- Use Your Eyes and Mind: Watch carefully and make your own decisions.
- No Talking: You can't talk to other participants during judging.
- Have Fun! This is a chance to practice and learn about horses. Helpful Tips for Judging
- Take Your Time: Don't rush—look at each horse carefully.
- Stand in the Right Spot: Stand where you can see the whole horse clearly.
- Compare the Horses: Think about what makes one horse better than another
